

Quick Facts – Responsible Gambling

(November 2010)

Sharing responsibility for gambling

In Alberta, we all have a role to play in being socially responsible. For the Alberta Gaming and Liquor Commission (AGLC), this means identifying and applying industry policies, regulations and best practices to the development of information and programs that help players gamble responsibly.

The AGLC, on its own and with Alberta Health Services (AHS) and other partners, has developed several initiatives to help reduce the risk of problem gambling and inform Albertans about responsible gambling, including the following:

Responsible Gambling Information Centres (RGICs) – In 2006, the AGLC began opening RGICs on the gaming floors in casinos and at the Edmonton Northlands Racing Entertainment Centre (REC). Currently there are 16 RGICs: 15 in casinos and one at Northlands.

Player Awareness Terminals (PATs) – Installed in all RGICs, the PATs feature a series of interactive screens offering a self-test, educational information and tips to gamblers on how to develop personal responsible gambling guidelines.

Cost of Play Calculators – Cost of Play Calculators are accessed through the RGICs and are a useful tool for showing the average cost of playing slots and table games. The calculator shows the average amount per hour, per month and per year that players will spend.

Info to Know – Education campaign to dispel gambling myths using TV, radio, internet and washroom posters.

Responsible Gambling Awareness Week (RGAW) – RGAW is an annual initiative of the AGLC, AHS and other industry partners. RGAW is an opportunity to educate the public about responsible and problem gambling and highlight the responsible gambling initiatives undertaken by the AGLC and its industry partners.

Responsible Gambling Features on VLTs – Added to VLTs in 2003-04, Responsible Gambling Features include pop-up reminders, a 24-hour clock and a display that tracks funds wagered. Responsible Gambling Features on VLTs help players stay aware of time expended and money spent.

Self-Exclusion Program – Individuals can choose to have themselves voluntarily banned from entering casinos and racing entertainment centres.

Reel Facts – One of the AGLC SMART training programs, Reel Facts is a responsible gambling awareness training program for VLT retailers and their staff.

Deal Us In & A Good Call – Two other AGLC SMART training programs for casino and REC, and bingo staff, respectively. Both are available online.

GamTalk – Is Canada's first moderated, national support forum for gamblers to discuss concerns, ask questions and get advice online. Counsellors monitor the site 24/7 and if a crisis or any other situation occurs, there is support the users.

Quick Facts – Responsible Gambling

(November 2010)

Information Materials – Brochures, posters, and a series of self-tests provide information to gamblers in casino, VLT and bingo venues, on how to gamble responsibly. All materials include the AHS Addiction Help Line number.

Problem & Responsible Gambling Strategy: ‘Both Sides of the Coin’

This five-year strategy was developed by the AGLC in partnership with AHS and in collaboration with key stakeholders. The strategy outlines a framework for the continuing development of the AGLC’s and AHS’s jointly sponsored responsible gambling programs.

Minors Awareness Campaign for Lottery Tickets – This annual campaign reminds retailers not to sell to minors and to ensure identification is requested from those appearing to be under 18 years of age. As well, a second campaign at Christmas reminds adults that ‘Santa doesn’t bring kids lottery tickets’.

Responsible gambling tips

Following are some suggestions to help you manage your gambling as a source of entertainment:

- Remember, the house always has the advantage.
- Before playing, educate yourself on how the game works.
- Use only money from your entertainment budget, do not borrow money to gamble.
- Know the warning signs of problem gambling and seek help if necessary.
- Do not try to “win back” losses by playing longer. Accept losses and stop gambling.
- Take frequent breaks.
- Balance gambling with your other leisure choices.
- Always! Set a limit. Stay within it.

Signs of gambling problems

Here are some warning signs that gambling has become a problem:

- Spending longer periods of time gambling.
- Placing larger, more frequent bets.
- Going into debt to support gambling activities.
- Arguing about gambling with friends or family.
- Pinning great hope on the “big win”.
- Feelings of guilt or remorse about gambling.
- Participating in illegal activities to obtain money.
- Missing work to gamble.
- Hiding involvement in gambling activities.

Cost of play

Remember that gambling is a form of entertainment and not a way to make money.

Games of chance come at a cost to you, the player. Casino gaming should not be viewed as a way to make money.

THE AGLC and AHS - Partners in promoting responsibility, moderation and education

The AGLC and AHS work together to raise awareness of problem gambling, and to promote responsible gambling behaviours.

AHS’s prevention, education and treatment programs are funded by the Alberta Lottery Fund.
